*Reservation.

In response to Senate resolution calling for a report on the price of lands and improvements on the south side of Pennsylvania avenue between the Avenue and B streets and Third and Fifteenth streets, the Commissioners today forwarded to Congress an estimate of $19,000,000 as the lowest purchase price. The actual estimate is $18,383,000, but the Commissioners say that possibly 5 per cent should be added to this for good will in some business properties, machinery on which little or no salvage would be obtained and other similar items. The property known as Center Market is not called for in the Senate resolution and is not included in the estimate. The surveyor of the District and the assessor separately made a thorough examination of all the properties in the blocks mentioned and arrived at the foregoing result after conference.

PUNISH DRUNKARDS AIM OF NEW BILL

Commissioners Send Congress Measure to Establish Inebriate Hospital.

With a recommendation that it be enacted, the Commissioners today forwarded to the District Committee a bill which was introduced by Representative Smith, making drunkenness in the District a misdemeanor. The bill provides that to be habitually drunk or to habitually use opium or other narcotics, is a misdemeanor punishable in the police court by a fine of not more than $5, or incarceration in the hospital for inebriates for not longer than two years, or both fine and imprisonment.

The Commissioners are authorized to establish a hospital for inebriates in the building formerly used as the main almshouse building. The inmates of the hospital shall be required, when able, to work at some useful occupation. The bill further provides that if any convicted drunkard or user of narcotics within three years after the date of conviction purchases or attempts to purchase liquors or narcotics, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $5 for the first offense and $10 for any subsequent offense. Any licensed dealer who furnishes such a person with intoxicants shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $50 for the first offense.

HUGHES RECEIVES JACKSON CHARGES

ALBANY, April 2.—The grand jury presentment against Attorney General Jackson was received today by Speaker Wadsworth, of the assembly, and Governor Hughes. The communication will be handed down by the speaker in the assembly Monday night, when the first action in the case is expected.

Governor Hughes, Speaker Wadsworth, and Senator Raines, president pro tem, of the senate, will hold a conference probably today, to determine what line of action will be followed. Either of two courses now may be pursued. The governor may recommend the removal, which can be accomplished only by a concurrence of two-thirds of the senate, or the assembly bring an impeachment action, which would result in Jackson being tried by the senate, sitting with the court of appeals.

MATTHEW GODDARD FUNERAL TOMORROW

MATTHEW GODDARD,
Whose Death Followed an Attack of Grip.

Was Prominent Merchant and One of Oldest Inhabitants.

Funeral services for Matthew Goddard, for many years a prominent retail merchant and one of Washington's oldest inhabitants, will be held from the St. Patrick's Church at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The interment will take place in Mt. Olivet Cemetery. The pall bearers will be Edward Hannon, George Minke, M. Fitzgerald, E. H. Neumeier, Jacob G. Moore, and Frank Jones.

For years Mr. Goddard conducted a grocery store at the corner of Thirteenth and G streets, where his father had labored before him. He was a member of the Washington Light Infantry, the Oldest Inhabitants' Association, and St. Vincent de Paul's Society, all of which organizations will be represented at the funeral. Death came after a severe attack of the grip, culminating a period of general ill-health which lasted about two years. He is survived by a wife and three sisters.

DIES IN WEDDING FINERY ENDS LIFE WITH GAS

NEW YORK, April 2.—Mary Green, a pretty girl of twenty-two, after arraying herself in the wedding clothes that she was to wear on Easter Day, put a gas tube into her mouth and killed herself.

She lived with her father and brother, but her death was not discovered until Patrolman Nally, who lives upstairs, smelling gas, came into the flat to investigate.

A note left by Miss Green to her fiancé, William Edgington, an electrical engineer, of Kingsbridge, read: "Dear Bill—Forgive me for what I am about to do. Mother's death and my ill-health have made me miserable. I don't want to make you unhappy. Take care of my body. Forgive and pity me. God help me and you. All I have is yours. Lovingly and devotedly, 'MAY.'"

Near the girl's chair was the rubber tube, which she had fastened into her mouth with a ribbon tied about her head. Not a detail of the wedding attire was missing.

WINTER'S HERE AGAIN; VITTIORS SORELY TRIED; APRIL TO RETURN IN DAY

The weather man took an unfair advantage of some of the Capitol's visitors, today, and sent them scurrying to hotels, where they huddled close to hot air vents and open grate fires, and viewed Washington from windows, instead of from a seat on the hurricane deck of a rubber-neck wagon.

A drop of about thirty degrees in twenty-four hours caught many people napping, and overcoats and other articles of winter wearing apparel were resuscitated this morning, before they had had an opportunity to become acquainted with the new moth balls.

A party which arrived from Georgia, today, was unfortunate enough to anticipate the balmy weather which was prevailing when they left home. One man stepped out in front of the new Union Station to gaze with admiration at the beautiful expanse of floral decorations on the well-kept greenward which stretched toward the Capitol for a distance of one hundred yards.

Praises Station Car Line. Above the din caused by his chattering teeth he was heard to bestow unstinted praise on the District for the unexcelled transportation facilities provided for the stranger within its gates. At that moment a full-grown gust of wind swooped down, grasped a freshly cleaned Panama hat, hurled it to the ground, and then sent it spinning along the be-splattered pavement in the direction of the new Senate office building. The Georgia cracker was so thankful for some exercise to get his congested blood into circulation that he raced after the Panama, and when he overtook it he stopped only long enough to crush it down on his head.

He then continued on his way until his further progress was interrupted by a masonry barrier, manned by a squad in white. To one of these Georgian merely said, "A little cawn, sah," and there he remained until he had been surly-ly chawed out to attempt another start for his hotel.

"Warm, Southern Climate." More pitiful yet was the plight of two well-dressed New Yorkers who came to Washington today "to enjoy a few days of the Southern climate." They were faultlessly attired in harmonious creations such as one may reasonably expect to see on the Great White Way for a few minutes, then, dived into a cab, drove to a bachelors' apartment house and borrowed a couple of overcoats. "We might as well have remained in New York, so far as weather goes," they remarked.

The thermometer registered 32 this morning, but the weather-forecaster predicts that within the next twenty-four hours the weather will moderate considerably. The cold wave set in yesterday afternoon, and in a very short time dropped twenty degrees from sixty-two. The wind continued to blow hard until late last night it had reached a velocity of between thirty-eight and forty miles an hour. The mercury continued to drop until at 9 o'clock this morning it had reached 23 degrees. It climbed a little higher, however, as the day wore on, and in twenty-four hours a close approach to normal April weather may be looked for.

Freezing Weather Kills Fruit and Grass Crops In Wide Southwest Area

ST. LOUIS, April 2.—Special dispatches from points in southern Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and Kansas, indicate serious damage to fruit by frost, sleet, and cold. Another frost struck Elgin yesterday morning, and last night freezing temperature prevailed at Galesville, Tex., killed fruit. Throughout the Ozark fruit region of Arkansas and Missouri, the temperature is below freezing. At McPherson, Kan., the thermometer last night registered 21 degrees above zero, lower than in January. Alfalfa in Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas has been killed. The thermometer dropped fifty degrees yesterday at Mt. Sterling, in central Illinois, and fifty at Duquoin, in southern Illinois, killing fruits.

SNOW IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 2.—The mercury dropped to freezing today. It will remain cold today and may be tomorrow. A flurry of snow swept Brooklyn bridge about 8 o'clock last night.

ST. LOUIS, April 2.—Killing frosts are reported in the early fruit belts of Texas, Oklahoma, and Missouri.

WINNIPEG, April 3.—One of the worst snowstorms of the season struck here last night and dispatches indicate the storm is severe generally over the Northwest. Traffic is completely blocked on several railroads.

DEFINITIONS.

"Panic" is named after the ancient god, Pan, because of the sudden and unreasoning fear which the sight of the heathen divinity was supposed to inspire. Other common words with a similar source in the old mythologies are "vulcanite," from Vulcan, the blacksmith; "marsian," from Mars, the warrior; "jovial," from Jove; "saturnine," from Saturn, and "mercurial," from Mercury, the nimble-heeled—Exchange.

MAN DIES FROM GAS; FRIEND BARELY LIVES

BALTIMORE, April 2.—Two young men, each about twenty-four years of age, believed to be William Gordon and Chester Jones, of Whiteford, Hartford County, Md., were found unconscious from the effects of illuminating gas at the Hotel Desch, on North Charles street last night, and removed to the city hospital, where the man thought to be Gordon died this morning without regaining consciousness. Despite the efforts of physicians to revive him, the other victim is still unconscious with little chance of recovery. When found both men were fully dressed and this led to a report of a suicide pact. It is generally believed that the young men were unfamiliar with gas and blew it out instead of turning it off.

"A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM"

This is the keynote of the new serial story, "Little Dunny Weaver," which begins in the magazine section of The Times next Sunday, and the plot revolves around a sweet-natured little-boy, his sister, her sweetheart, and two grizzled miners. The scene is laid in a Western mining camp. There have been dissensions and misunderstandings all around, but the little fellow unconsciously straightens them all out and restores peace and happiness.

The story is a vivid one; such as would naturally be expected from the pen of such an author as Philip Verrill Miles, the author of "Bravur Jim's Baby." The new serial begins next Sunday so be sure to get the magazine section of The Times next Sunday. It will be worth your while.
